400 PUBLISHERS WIRE WILSON THEY ARE BACKING HIM

Substitute for Creel Bureau Urged at Convention to "Get Rid of Disloyal Head."

About 400 members of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association got into one room in the Waldorf-Astoria this morning, sat in straight rows, sent a straight telegram to the President at Washington to let him know that they were "with him."

First of all, because it was unanimous, the telegram to Washington should be reported. Here it is:

"The publishers of the United States newspapers at the annual meeting of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association heartily endorse your recent address in which the principles on which the United States stands in the war are again defined, and we applaud your reaffirmation of our national purposes and your statement of the basis of the only peace that this country will consider."

"We glory in your acceptance of the German challenge and, pledging the fullest support of the newspaper press to the Government, we declare with you that neither Germany nor any other nation shall be allowed to extend its dominion over the earth. Day by day representatives of our families and our offices in the army and the navy are increasing in numbers. With their steady departure for the scenes of war our responsibility in the struggle continually deepens and our determination to be victorious is strengthened."

"Our material and financial resources are at the call of the nation. We uphold your declaration that righteous and triumphant force must be used to the uttermost to make right the law of the world and cast every selfish dominion down in the dust."

ROGERS LAUNCHES ATTACK ON CREEL BUREAU.

It was signed by Hopewell L. Rogers as president of the association. And it was this same Hopewell L. Rogers—speaking individually, in this instance, however—who launched the attack on the Creel Bureau.

It came at the close of his address to the convention after he had discussed print paper and such things, voicing the opinion that it would be unnecessary for the Government to fix the price of print paper or any other commodity provided the war taxes were "wisely drawn and fairly administered."

Mr. Rogers thought there ought to be a substitute for the Creel Bureau, in order, he said, that the country might be "rid of the incompetent and disloyal head of the department who glories in our unpreparedness."

After which Mr. M. H. de Young of the San Francisco Chronicle, all in blossom-like California itself, entered the convention—too late for business but in plenty of time for lunch.

Odds are being offered everywhere that the next President will be Frank P. Glass of the Birmingham News and that George Mooney of the New York Times will be Vice President. Still bigger odds are offered that Lincoln B. Palmer, who modestly describes himself as the association's hired man, will keep on being the general manager of the association.

Charles H. Taylor of the Boston Globe handled the gavel when the convention was discussing eighteen phases of the advertising problem, and it was his job to get the tables all finished in time for lunch, which task he accomplished ruthlessly and to the great relief of E. H. Baker of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, who was hungry.

The busiest man in sight was not a member at all. This was Ernest F.

Birmingham of the Fourth Estate, which is getting out its annual "bull-dog edition," due to come hot from the presses in the middle of the salad course at the annual banquet. Birmingham can't be a member because he doesn't publish the Fourth Estate every day. That's the only reason.

From a practical point of view the most important business before the convention is the new postage law on second class mail and what to do about it. But that discussion comes later.

All officers of the Associated Press were to-day re-elected by the Board of Directors, as follows: President, Frank R. Noyes, Washington Star; First Vice President, Ralph H. Booth, Muskegon Chronicle; Second Vice President, E. P. Adler, Des Moines Times; Secretary, Melville E. Stone, New York City; Assistant Secretary, Frederick Roy Martin, New York City; Treasurer, J. R. Youst, New York City.

The offices of secretary and assistant secretary carry with them those of general manager and assistant general manager, respectively.

ARMED MEN HOLD UP SALOONKEEPER; GET $400

Max Cohen, Facing Revolvers, Fights Robbers Until Knocked Unconscious—Bandits Escape.

When he attempted to resist two armed burglars who entered his saloon at No. 237 Broome Street shortly after 1 o'clock this morning, Max Cohen, forty-three years old, was knocked unconscious by a blow on his head with the butt of a revolver. When he regained consciousness his cash register had been rifled of about $400 and the men were gone.

Cohen told the police that the burglars entered his saloon and leveled their revolvers at his head, demanding his cash.

He grappled with them and fought until he was knocked down. He was taken to Gouverneur Hospital, where five stitches were made in his scalp.

AMERICAN DYES USED FOR GERMAN MUNITIONS

Chemists Discover Valuable Acids Can Be Extracted, So Lid Is Shut on Exports.

Behind the announcement of the War Trade Board to-day that hereafter American-made dyes were not to be exported without a special license from the board lies an interesting story of secret investigation which revealed suspicious activities in dye exports.

The dye industry in this country has leaped to large proportions following the romantic triumph of the English Government in securing the secret of German-made dyes from a Swiss source. Some time ago the authorities noted the fact of large and continuous shipments of dyes from American ports to neutral countries.

Chemists discovered that with a majority of the dye chemical processes could be used to break them down into their component elements, several of which were valuable acids in the manufacture of munitions. Then it was decided to stop the shipments of dyes to neutral countries to which Germany has access.

Finest for Allowing Minors in Movie Theatres.

A woman and three men were fined in the Court of Special Sessions, Brooklyn, to-day for allowing minors to enter moving picture houses. They were: Miss Margaret Harrigan, twenty-two, a ticket seller, at No. 497 Henry Street, fined $50; Jacob Berg, thirty-four, No. 25 Lee Avenue, fined $50; Barnett Siegel, No. 1273 Broadway, $50; James Mendelson, No. 384 Fort Hamilton Avenue, $25. All the defendants paid their fines.

ALLEGED SLUR ON BONDS LEADS TO STREET CHASE

Crowd Pursues Man at Brooklyn Meeting, and He Is Glad When Police Arrest Him.

James Kelly, a vaudeville actor, was urging the purchase of Liberty Bonds in front of Borough Hall, Brooklyn, at 12:50 o'clock to-day at a rally of from 4,000 to 5,000 persons, under the auspices of "The Gipsy Trail" company, when a man with a foreign accent remarked something about not buying bonds. The next moment he was flying down Fulton Street, with 2,000 men, women and children in pursuit.

The advance guard got near enough to administer a few punches and kicks before he was rescued by Policeman Charles Rinker of the Adams Street Police Station. Police reserves kept back the crowd of indignant and excited patriots.

The prisoner gave the name of Theodore Dietrichson, twenty-six years old, living at Huntington, L. I. He said he had been in this country for six years, was a native of Denmark and had taken out his first papers six months ago. He denied having said anything against the purchase of Liberty Bonds. The police held him for arraignment in the Adams Street Police Court.

20 DISLOYAL ALIENS TARRIED AND ARRESTED

Austrians in Pennsylvania Refused to Buy Liberty Bonds or Help Red Cross.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., April 24.—Twenty aliens, the majority of them Austrians, were tarred and feathered by residents of Conemaugh, a suburb, when they refused to contribute to a fund being collected to purchase uniforms for Home Guards. The men, it is said, had refused to purchase Liberty Bonds or to participate in any movement which had patriotism as its incentive.

The tarred and feathered men were paraded through the streets and later were arrested.

TWO MORE DEATHS LAID TO N. Y. GIRL'S SLAYER

Schmidt's Housekeeper Disappeared When He Had Home at Lakewood, N. J.

ROYAL OAK, Mich., April 24.—Three "murder" plants, one at Lakewood, N. J., one at Detroit, and one here—were operated by Helmut Schmidt at different times, police were inclined to believe to-day, following revelations by Gertrude, his eighteen-year-old daughter.

At least two other women in addition to Augusta Steinbach of New York are known to have dropped from sight through his establishments. They were attracted through matrimonial advertisements. Police were dining up the cellar and yard of the Schmidt home here to-day, following his suicide yesterday after confessing the Steinbach murder.

Schmidt landed in New York in 1913, his daughter said, having left Germany to escape military service. His first venture was on a farm near Lakewood, N. J., where Adele Ulrich, his housekeeper, disappeared. Next, Irma Palantien, twenty-eight, answered Schmidt's matrimonial advertisement, was "married" to him and disappeared.

MET INVENTOR: $700 GONE.

Weapons to "Put Kaiser Out of Business" Probably Used on Him.

"I'm patriotic. I'm going to take out of the bank $400 for Liberty Bonds," said William Rasadawich, a Russian, employed as a presser in a tailor shop at No. 130 West 22d Street, Manhattan, yesterday.

"Fine," said Adam Hordienk, who pressing pants next to Rasadawich. "Take out more than $400."

So Rasadawich drew $700. Hordienk went with him. Outside the bank, Rasadawich told the Brooklyn police, Hordienk met an inventor of a war weapon to put the Kaiser out of business.

"I don't remember any more till I woke up and found my money gone," said Rasadawich.

Hordienk was arrested to-day. The inventor has not been found.

SOLDIERS TO AID POLICE IN FREEING CITY OF VICE PERIL

No Intention To Take Control Out of Municipal Hands—Capt. Pfeiffer in Charge.

Capt. Timothy N. Pfeiffer, in co-operation with the Army and Navy Intelligence Bureaus and the city police, is at work on comprehensive plans to protect soldiers and sailors in New York from vice and from drug and liquor sellers. Capt. Pfeiffer, who was an Assistant District Attorney under Charles A. Perkins, was put in charge of the work following a conference here with Raymond B. Fossick, head of the Commission on Training Camp Activities.

Twenty-five men in soldiers' uniforms will be put on police duty as part of the campaign to keep the city clean. There is no intention of taking control out of the hands of the city as in Philadelphia. The plan is simply to make the police and Secret Service more effective by supplementing their work. It is believed women who have been preying on men in the service can be more easily trapped by soldiers than by policemen or plain clothes detectives.

"It would be improper for me to tell at present of the details of our plans," said Capt. Pfeiffer to-day. "In co-operation with the city authorities and the army and navy forces I have been making a close study of the situation. I will go to Washington on Sunday and lay the whole situation before the authorities there and then carry out any program they may decide upon."

"I will return to New York next Wednesday and open at least temporary headquarters at the Intelligence Bureau at No. 303 Broadway. I probably will have something definite to announce on my return from the capital."

Capt. Pfeiffer will be in touch with the police through Deputy Commissioner Wanamaker, who has charge of the city's Home Defense system. He has already conferred with Mayor Hylan and Commissioner Enright, and has been assured that all the city's resources will be used to make New York a safe place for soldiers and sailors.

The work will take in not only New York City but New Jersey and New York cities and villages within a radius of about twenty miles, which includes the big encampments around New York. Ports of departure for troops also will be watched. The squad will be on duty for the period of the war, according to present plans, and will be enlarged as it is found necessary.

Capt. Pfeiffer is particularly fitted for the work owing to the insight into the task he gained while in the city's service. His chief work will be the co-ordination of all the agencies now combatting vice in New York.

FEDERAL TRAFFIC COURT PLANNED FOR NEW YORK

Jurisdiction Over Motor Vehicles of Government, Other Than Mail Trucks, Now Lacking.

Steps are being taken by State officials to bring about the establishment of a Federal Traffic Court in this city to have jurisdiction over the increasing number of motor vehicles in use by Federal and military branches of the Government.

A decision recently rendered by Attorney General of the State, Merton E. Lewis, at the request of Secretary of State, Francis M. Hugo, established that the State of New York has no jurisdiction over motor vehicles other than mail trucks in the service of the National Government.

Motor Vehicle Commissioner William L. Dill of New Jersey, has forwarded to the Traffic Court here a report on the difficulties the same situation presents in New Jersey. He says:

"Numerous infractions of the Motor Vehicle Law have been observed by cars displaying a sign labelled U. S. A., and investigations of these accidents invariably reveal that the operator was not on official business."

ALLEGED WIFE BEATER TARRIED AT ENDICOTT, N. Y.

Candy Dealer Stripped and Turned Loose With Only Coat of Feathers.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., April 24.—Early this morning a crowd abducted Chris Dorais, a Greek proprietor of a candy store at Endicott, a suburb of this city, carried him by automobile into the country, stripped U. S. A., and feathered him, and turned him loose in the chill wind. Dorais was on bail pending examination on a charge of wife beating. The crowd dispersed before the authorities arrived.

It required five gallons of kerosene to remove the tar and feathers.

PRIVATE ASKS RELEASE.

Allen, Non-Declarant, Says He Is Exempt From Army Duty.

A rule was granted yesterday by Judge Haight in the Newark branch of the United States District Court ordering the Government to show cause next Monday why Gabriel Jacobs of No. 125 Humboldt Street, New York, should not be released from Camp Dix. Jacobs, a private in the 168d Depot Brigade, declares he is an alien non-declarant and therefore excluded from selective service. He says he applied for a questionnaire to his local district exemption board in Monticello, N. Y., and at that time told the board he had moved to New York City. He was arrested as a deserter, placed on Governor's Island and then transferred to Camp Dix.

POWDER PLANTS BLOWN UP, Many Casualties Reported in Two Austrian Factories.

The explosions are believed to have been caused by incendiaries.
